
Latency values are truncated integers instead of fractions.